

Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam to Phuket, Thailand (Stage 14)

General Consideration for the Malay Peninsula

- Pedal on the left side of the road.
- Don't drink the water until Singapore.
- Warm and humid and tropical.
- Drugs will put in you in jail or result in your death.
- If you can't read the signs, we will understand.
- Expect shops, and there are a fair number of them, to be closed on Sundays.
- Very friendly people. Buddha in north and Muslim in southern Thailand, Malaysia and Singapore, even though there are a few other religions practiced. You will see a number of Buddhist monks and temples known as Wats. Ask about the appropriate conduct around religious leaders and visiting houses of worship.
- Signed relatively well in Thailand, but mostly in Thai script. Malaysia is easier since it uses more English letters.
- The Thai baht is about 43.7 to the USD.
- The Malaysian Ringget is about 3.8 to the USD.
- The Singapore dollar is about 1.75 to the USD.
- Singapore is a small beautifully kept country with some pretty strict rules.
- Most of Odyssey Malaysia will be through Muslim country. Cycling clothing will be appropriate for our travels and visit through even in the most conservative areas in northern Malaysia. Women should not have any particular problems or concerns.

Day 314 Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam to Phuket, Thailand 9-Nov Thu

Services:	Two days off in this popular third world resort community. Phuket has it all, including a McDonalds.
Hotel:	We are staying at the 11 year Royal Paradise Hotel a few blocks off the beach and the Grand Tropicana Hotel, but in the heart of Thai life. You will be assigned three to a room.
Sanitation	In room in all of this stage.
Dinner:	Dinner will be from 6:00 to 7:30 every night at the hotel.
Breakfast:	Breakfast will be from 8:00 to 9:30 am the first 2 days and 6:00 to 8:00 on Sunday. All at your respective hotel.
Tomorrow:	Enjoy two days off in this popular tourist area. Scuba, snorkeling, canoeing, elephant riding, hanging out or eating at McDonalds.

Day 315 Phuket layover day 10-Nov Fri

Day 316 Phuket layover day 11-Nov Sat

Tomorrow:	The cost of chartering a ferry was prohibitive, so we are pedaling to Krabi. The longest day in the Malay Peninsula at 180.3 kms. Be prepared to get an early start and plan to drink plenty of water. Some climbing along the coast, then pretty flat or rolling terrain for rest of day. Expect a fair amount of traffic, overall excellent shoulders and plenty of services. NOTE: We do have a pickup point set at about 137 kms. Overall an excellent road with a fair number of services most of day.

Services: Full services in this very conservative Muslim area of the world. This state is probably the most conservative of all states. Alcohol is hard to find, but you can buy everything else close to the hotel. No problem wearing cycling clothing.

Hotel: We will be among the first guests in this 5 star hotel. You will be assigned at least two to a room. We may have to use another hotel for a few rooms since the Renaissance Hotel is still under construction.

Dinner: Dinner will be from 6:00 to 7:30 pm at the hotel.

Breakfast: Breakfast will be from 6:30 to 8:00 am at the hotel.

Tomorrow: 139.2 kms. Relatively flat day with some congestion. Also some pretty cool, quite, tiny narrow roads. Expect some special activities at or before arriving at tomorrow night's resort.

Services: No town close to resort, but the resort should have everything we need, including an all day snorkeling venture to Redang Island. KAS and I found this place almost three years ago and thought the facilities, location, pool and people are great. Mr. Zain, the general manager, is a champion for Odyssey and has been a great help. Give him a special thanks for arranging this great party.

Hotel: We have taken over this 3 star ocean front resort and should have a blast. Bed for everyone. Two to three to a room since it only has 120 rooms.

Dinner: Dinner will be from 6:45 to 8:15 pm tonight and 5:00 to 6:30 pm tomorrow at the hotel.

Breakfast: Breakfast will be from 8:00 to 9:30 am tomorrow and 6:30 to 8:00 pm on Monday at the hotel.

Tomorrow: Consider a trip to Redang Island. Discounted fee includes lunch and snorkeling.

Services:	Singapore is wonderful. Super modern and a lot of shopping opportunities. You can find what you want. The Hotel Le Meridien Changi is in a quiet village next to the airport, about 17 kms from the city center. Singapore city is easy to access via, cab, bus and airport connections.
Camping:	We will be assigning folks three to a room.
Dinner:	Dinner will be from 6:30 to 8:00 pm tonight and 6:00 to 7:30 tomorrow at the hotel.
Breakfast:	Breakfasts will be from 8:00 to 9:30 am at the hotel.
Tomorrow:	Relatively flat day with some congestion.
